

PRESS RELEASE

Serendipity Megarip 8.1 announced.

SYDNEY, Australia – July 20, 2020 – Serendipity Software today announced version 8.1 of Megarip, a major update to the software that includes many new features and enhancements of benefit to new and existing customers alike.

“Megarip version 8.1 includes a new PDF engine licensed from Artifex Software” said Peter Skarpetis, Serendipity Software's Chief Executive Officer. This ensures compatibility with current and future PDF specifications.

Megarip version 8.1 adds a new screening engine that enables Screen Printing on devices without built-in screening. Most of the recent HP DesignJet and large format printers fall into this category.

Megarip version 8.1 implements rolling backups for the QueueManager, ensuring job queue consistency after a system crash, even under heavy load.

Megarip version 8.1 Server and Client backups are integrated with the operating system and can be restored by simply double-clicking on the backup file.

Megarip version 8.1 dynamically updates user-facing printer options, making printer configuration seamless.

Megarip version 8.1 enhances the Serendipity Blackmagic Image format by improving the compression algorithm used, resulting in faster processing times and smaller files.
